Great Works are achieved not by strength, but by preserverance.....

Dear Parents,

The annual day practice is on with full zest and zeal and I am very happy with the encouraging response of the students. The theme is not only riveting and enthralling but leaves behind a powerful message. I am sure the performance of my students will leave each one of you spellbound.

In sync with the latest curricular changes brought by the CBSE, we at Indraprastha always keep the welfare of students as our top most priority and ensure holistic development for all. Art, performing arts and discipline are now an integral part of the curriculum. We have allotted equal weightage to these aspects and participation in annual day celebration is one of them.

Encouraging regular school attendance is one of the most inviolable ways by which we can prepare our children for success- both in school and in life. When we make school attendance a priority, we help your children achieve better grades, develop health life habits, avoid unwanted behaviour and have a better chance of higher achievement. We the school and you, the parents, as partners in the holistic development of each child, have to work in collaboration towards better school attendance.

Students who attend school regularly are more connected to the school, develop important social skills, imbibe appropriate values and are more likely to perform better. On the contrary when children are absent frequently, it can have a negative impact on the child's performance and overall development.

I urge each one of you, as the guardians of 'my' children to ensure that your ward attends school regularly. Absenteeism becomes a habit and ultimately leads to failure of life skill management. Children lose track of time, cannot co-ordinate important activities and in general become callous in their attitude. So, let us join hands in ensuring better attendance of our children in school and give them a better chance to be winners in life.

The winter school uniform has been redesigned for better comfort and turn-out of students. We request you to collect the uniform for your ward as per the schedule given on the next page. The school will remain closed for the Dussehra break from Wednesday, October 17 to Sunday October 21, 2018. I also take this opportunity to wish each one of you a Very Happy Dussehra where we celebrate the victory of good over evil.

Your support in all matters of the school is always highly appreciated.

With warm regards

Shikha Arora
Principal
